AIF ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2010

Interchurch Families as Prophets

There have always been Prophets working and speaking for God. Interchurch Families are called to be Prophets in the world and the churches. This weekend will be an occasion for us to explore what being a Prophet means to us. There will be opportunities to listen to the word of God and others, and opportunities for discussion, all underpinned by prayer and scripture.

Some of the questions which may be explored include: What is our prophetic message? Who are the audience for the message? How will we ensure that the right people hear the message?

We hope to be joined by the Rt Rev Bill Ind, for 21 years until 2007 he was the Anglican Bishop of Truro, and noted scholar Canon John Udris, Dean of Northampton RC Cathedral, who will help us in our exploration. Do join us!

We welcome all couples in an interchurch marriage, or thinking about such a marriage (usually a Roman Catholic and a Christian of another communion) and interchurch children of any age. Clergy, ministers and others interested in, or pastorally concerned with, interchurch families are also most welcome.

Children will enjoy their own separate, but integrated programmes and there will be a crèche. Those aged 14 and over may elect to join the main conference or take part in the Young Adults Group (IFYAG) programme.

Young Adults aged under 18 who wish to come alone should complete a Parental Consent Form which may be obtained from the AIF Office. The Association cannot accept unaccompanied children under the age of 15.

Worship and prayer, as in our families, are central to the Conference. All ages are involved in the liturgy and the music. There will be celebrations in Roman Catholic, Anglican and Free Church traditions.

Bursary Fund

It is a matter of principle that no member of the Association should stay away from the Conference simply for financial reasons. If the fees are outside your reach please consider applying to the Bursary Fund for a loan or a grant (full or partial). Young Adults can also apply independently of their family. All requests should be made direct to the Bursary Administrators, Bev & Paul Hollins, and will be treated in absolute confidence:

Email Paul & Bev at bev_hollins@yahoo.co.uk; tel. 01908 614943; or write to 3 Castle Meadow Close, Newport Pagnell, Milton Keynes MK16 9EJ.
