

NEW BOOK

THE ECUMENICAL CHAPLAINCY OF ST ALBANS CATHEDRAL

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS AND RECOLLECTIONS

Pamela McElroy

“The testimonies which Pam McElroy has gathered in this book underline what an extraordinary, and still unique, achievement the ecumenical chaplaincy of St Albans Cathedral is.”
*The Very Rev Dr Jeffrey John,
Dean of St Albans*

In 1983, in the optimism following the Second Vatican Council, visionary clergy established an Ecumenical Chaplaincy at St Albans Cathedral in Hertfordshire, bringing together Anglican, Roman Catholic, Free Church, Lutheran and Orthodox communities.

Other churches have ecumenical services and initiatives but none has the embedded and long-standing chaplaincy of St Albans. This unique story is best told by those most closely involved: this book presents the personal recollections of 30 clergy and lay people, with 50 photos of the people, events and places involved.

This is an account of a long, fruitful collaboration that has created a legacy of immense value.

If the whole Christian church takes seriously the prayer and commission of Christ in the gospel that his followers 'be one' then the example and significance of this visionary ministry should be more widely known and followed.

Pamela (Pam) McElroy was educated at North London Collegiate School, Exeter and Cambridge Universities. Most of her professional career was spent in education, and ecumenism featured early in her life with the 'People Next Door' initiative in the 1960s, adopted with enthusiasm by churches in Mill Hill where she grew up. Her nearly 39-year marriage to Michael, a Catholic, gave her the opportunity and privilege of worshipping in two denominations supported by the Association of Interchurch Families. Pam has served on her local Parochial Church Council, St Albans Deanery Synod, Churches Together in Marshalswick and in St Albans. She is a member of the local Newman Association Circle, is a Cathedral Guide and has lived in St Albans for 40 years.

Proceeds from sales of this book will go to support St Albans Cathedral, and the Association of Interchurch Families

The Ecumenical Chaplaincy of St Albans

Pamela McElroy

Published March 2021 by Independent Publishing Network

Enquiries to pamela.ecumenical@gmail.com

www.facebook.com/StAlbansCathedralEcumenicalChaplaincyBook

A5 paperback, 120 pages, colour throughout, with more than 50 photos

Contents: Ecumenical services. Acknowledgements. Foreword by Jeffrey John.

Introduction. The ecumenical chaplains. Personal reflections and recollections of 30 of the people involved with the Chaplaincy from 1983. Index.

ISBN 978-1-80049-395-7. Price £9.50. Post and packing in the UK £2.50

ORDERING INFORMATION

You can order from your local bookshop, or by post using this form.

Price £9.50. Post and packing in the UK £2.50

To: Pamela McElroy, 55 Villiers Crescent, St Albans AL4 9EZ.

pamela.ecumenical@gmail.com

Please send me..... copies of The Ecumenical Chaplaincy of St Albans Cathedral

Cost £ + £ (post and packing) Total £.....

Name (BLOCK CAPITALS).....

Address

..... Post code

Email Date

I enclose a cheque, made payable to Mrs Pamela McElroy, for £

OR

I am making a bank transfer to

Mrs Pamela McElroy, Account 55258694, Sort code 09-01-29 for £